Child Protection Policy

DangerSpot Books are children's picture books with safety stickers helping to prevent accidents within the home and elsewhere.

Our Mission

Designed as storytelling books, DangerSpot Books are used to inform children and remind parents and teachers of the dangers. Very often it is an adult's lack of thought or awareness that causes a child to be injured.

First and foremost, the stories are funny and entertaining for children. That way, they pay attention and the safety message sinks in.

DangerSpot Books respects and values each and every child, listens to children and learns, and believes in a world where all children have hope and opportunity. The future of our world is our children.

Introduction

The Convention on the Rights of the Child is the first legally binding international instrument to incorporate the full range of human rights. In 1989, world leaders decided that children needed a special convention just for them because people under 18 years old often need special care and protection that adults do not. The leaders also wanted to make sure that the world recognized that children have human rights too.

DangerSpot Books staff and directors are committed to the prevention of child abuse and the protection of children.

This policy states our principles, common values and beliefs to uphold our commitment to maintaining the dignity and protection of children.

The welfare of the child is paramount.

Code of conduct

All staff and directors must sign up to and abide by this Code of Conduct.
